Like Birthing Pains

By Elene Rodgers

It is interesting that the Bible describes the way crises will occur around the world before the return of Jesus Christ as birthing pains; “For when they shall say, Peace and safety; then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape.” (1 Thessalonians 5:3). To understand this analogy you must understand the phases of when a woman goes into labor. At first, the pain is mild to moderate. The contractions only last a short period of time and are not very close together which is manageable for the mother-to-be. This phase may last for hours. However, as the labor progresses, the contractions get stronger, last longer, and are closer together. At the final phase of birthing pain, the contractions seem to be continuous and are extremely intense. Understanding this process with its phases helps us understand the current events.

Covid-19 with its lockdowns, followed by the mask orders, and vaccine mandates have had an impact on the world. Recently, the order to wear masks was relaxed along with the requirement to show vaccine passports which were required in some states even in America. Many people began to express relief that it seemed like things were going to get back to “normal” during this pause from the various orders. This period of intermission is to be expected as in the birthing process, but when the next crisis occurs it will hit even harder. Even now there are signs that the next wave will be more intense. For example, there is an increase of Covid in China. A major problem in China is their zero tolerance policy. This time 5 major cities were shutdown with 45 million people on lockdown. The problem is that China is the “manufacturer for the world” and what is happening this time is that manufacturing areas are being hit even harder with the lockdowns. In an article entitled “Shenzhen Lockdown Leaves U.S. Ports Bracing for Fallout” by Bloomberg it talked about the effect of the lockdowns in China having a ripple effect in the United States. In comparison of previous lockdowns to this one it stated, “With the current lockdown being more widespread, the effects could be bigger and last longer, he said.” That sounds exactly like the process of contractions in birthing pains.

In America, the National Covid-19 Preparedness Plan released in March 2, 2022 the day after the President’s State of the Union Address, reveals that with the next variant the government will leverage the existing infrastructure that has already been established which will enable them to enhance and expand their response. Even now as people are relaxed the wastewater surveillance that was mentioned in the plan is detecting the next increase. “A wastewater network that monitors for Covid-19 trends is warning that cases are once again rising in many parts of the U.S., according to an analysis of Centers for Disease Control and Prevention data by Bloomberg.”¹

As you see this next wave occur, recognize that it will be more intense than before and that this is the way the Bible revealed crises in the world would be like.

The Good News is that birthing pains are a sign that the deliverance is about to come. Likewise, when you see the crises increase in intensity remember Jesus Christ is soon to come. “Verily, verily, I say unto you, That ye shall weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice: and ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy. (21) A woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world. (22) And ye now therefore have sorrow: but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no man taketh from you.” (John 16:20-22).

There is a world perishing, in need of light. The mission of this magazine is to inspire you to arise and fulfill the commission given us by Jesus to go into all the world teaching and preaching the everlasting gospel. We must be lights for Christ.

The people are to be called to “behold the Lamb of God which taketh away the sins of the world” and accept His gift of salvation. God’s law is to be upheld, the Seventh-day Sabbath is to be clearly presented before the people. Babylon is to be revealed and the people are to be called from it. This is the Three Angels’ Message of Revelation 14 that unites with the Fourth Angels’ message of Revelation 18.

This message must go to all the world. We hope this magazine encourages you to go forward giving this message, seeking to save the lost!

Called to the Highest Standard

By Elijah M. Rodgers

Throughout the ages God has had a people who were lifted high above the world as lights in the midst of darkness. In the midst of war and trouble they stood high in God's Almighty fortress filled with the peace of Christ. They stood above corruption and demoralization, as "holy" "without rebuke". In medical and educational pursuits they were the most intellectually and scientifically advanced. They stood above the world because they were upon the firm foundation, Jesus Christ.

We as Seventh-day Adventists are called to the highest standards. As God's people, we are called to be the head, not followers of the majority. We are called to reach the highest standards in all that we do. In our characters and influence, our churches, and in all of our institutions.

Where do we find those standards? These standards are found throughout all of the Bible. When we look at the temple and its services that God had given Israel, there was specific order, neatness, thoroughness in all levels of its administration. The God who created and maintains the universe is a God of order.

God has given us the highest standard for us to reach in our medical and educational work. An amazing blueprint has been laid out before us outlining the purpose and foundation of all of our medical and educational institutions.

Now is the time for us to understand the full width, length, depth, and power of our educational blueprint. Our standard of education far exceeds the standards of any secular institution or agency in all disciplines; in science, in medical work, in business, and all other vocations.

While regular liberal arts universities may have larger buildings, government support and money than colleges and universities that follow the blueprint those things do not determine the educational excellence of an institution. Though many of the regular universities claim to have "higher" education, many universities become a place of downfall for many students who become entangled in drugs, alcohol, and fraternities. This shows the low ethics many of these institutions really have.

God's method of education as laid out in the blueprint is the highest education. The Holy Scriptures are its foundation. The principles of highest education practically prepares men and women to be loyal to God and the greatest blessing they can be to humanity. It develops the character the students will bring into every aspect of their work. It implants within the students a desire, as followers of Christ, to uplift humanity physically, mentally, and spiritually. They do the very work Christ did while on earth being "friends of humanity, truth, and holiness". These are the objects and principles that define the highest education.

We cannot reach the highest standard in our own power. As we yield ourselves to the Creator, He will enable us to reach the highest standards. Think about Daniel and his three friends. They did not get their wisdom from the university of Babylon. "God gave them knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom". (Daniel 1:17) Though they were in a heathen land they decided to obtain their wisdom from God. In all the empire, there "was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah". Because of their wisdom, Nebuchaneszar, king of the most powerful nation on the planet, wanted these men to stand before him. (Daniel 1:19) This wisdom was not just for Daniel and his three friends, this is God's desire for all.

The highest standard is also held for our medical work. It is to be advanced, scientific, and work according to the laws of the body. It confronts challenges from lifestyle diseases to the most difficult emergencies. Our Chief Physician is Jesus Christ. It is the object of our medical work to point the sick to the Great Physician, Jesus Christ, who can heal them not only physically and mentally, but also spiritually.

The one and only goal of the highest medical work is our one and only desire to serve humanity in the very way Christ did while on earth not for the purpose of gain, but to offer hope to the hopeless, health to the feeble, life to the dying, revealing to the afflicted multitudes the true compassion of Jesus Christ.

When most of our physicians followed the blueprint they indeed were the head. Many were the leading physicians of the late 19th and early 20th centuries. They advocated temperance and abstinence from tobacco in a time when many worldly physicians smoked and prescribed tobacco to their patients.

Our medical training for our more advanced medical missionary physicians, nurses, and others must be of the highest order. These student will have a very deep and comprehensive understanding of the anatomy and physiology of the human body and will receive adequate practical experience and training to enable them to be proficient in their medical work. They will be thorough in their research, diligent in diagnoses and cure of disease. God has provided us with the means to be the greatest medical and educational system in the world!

Sadly, we have not reached the potential that God desires us to reach in regards to our medical and educational institutions. We have made major mistakes. Our colleges and universities have not continued to follow this blueprint.

The failure to practice the medical missionary work has also been felt in our churches. Health reform is not taught as it should be taught in our churches. As a result many more within have been severely impacted by many of the diseases that are facing the world. If the message of health reform had been taught and practiced in the church as it should have been, the diseases of the world would not have had the same effect on here as the world.

Satan thinks that he has taken over the work. Our educational institutions and our medical institutions are following the world. Satan is leading many in worldliness and has put the majority in a spiritual sleep. He thinks he has it all.

But, I must not continue to state the things we are not doing nor the regrets of the past. Now is the time for us as a people to acknowledge our mistakes, move forward, redeem the time, and finish the work. God will revive His work. From among the dry bones God's army will arise with great power.

In order to finish the work we need a special endowment of the Holy Spirit upon each heart. We need a revival and reformation in our lives.

I will say that though much apostasy has come within our ranks, the devil's purpose to destroy this church will never succeed. God is in complete control as we enter the greatest battle the great controversy between light and darkness, life and death, has ever seen. The spirit of the world, the spirit of compromise, the spirit of hatred, variance, backbiting, the spirit of division, will not stand within the mighty Seventh-day Adventist movement.

The Seventh-day Adventist movement will stand throughout eternity. At the end of the great controversy it will be confidently declared, "Here is the patience of the saints: here are they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus." Revelation 14:12

We must now come together before God in all humility, repent of our transgression, and past failures, and pray for the outpouring of the Holy Spirit. If we want to partake of the revival that is soon to take place we must individually inspect our hearts to see if it is right with God.

"When this prayer of Christ's is answered for His people in this age, when this unity exists among Seventh-day Adventists, there will be a tremendous influence going forth from them to the world. Reformations will take place; first in our own ranks, and then in those for whom we labor, will be seen the transformation of character for which Christ so earnestly prayed." Ministry to the Cities, p. 29

We are in a fierce battle for the soul of humanity. Satan is trying to destroy as many people as he can. Now is the time for us to do all we can to counteract Satan's plans of destruction. As time moves forward, it will only get worse. We need to position ourselves now. We need to spread out in various places, especially in places that have not heard the message. We must use our influence in these areas in every way we can. Also, the outposts that are currently established need to be supported and strengthened.

This can be done by encouraging families to move to areas that do not have the light or to support existing outpost. We need to come close to the people and place ourselves in every aspect of society.

We need to begin doing this in the most urgent manner greater than all of the missionary advancements we have made in the past. We need to gain every inch of advancement, and every opportunity possible. Now is the time.

This is why I encourage you to join the AAGE Network. The AAGE Network is wholeheartedly committed in fulfilling the mission God has committed to His remnant people. If that is your mission, join the network. Let's arise and finish the work!!!!

Our Talents

By Ellen G. White

The talents, however few, are to be put to use. The question that most concerns us is not, How much have I received? but, What am I doing with that which I have? The development of all our powers is the first duty we owe to God and to our fellow men. No one who is not growing daily in capability and usefulness is fulfilling the purpose of life. In making a profession of faith in Christ we pledge ourselves to become all that it is possible for us to be as workers for the Master, and we should cultivate every faculty to the highest degree of perfection, that we may do the greatest amount of good of which we are capable.

The Lord has a great work to be done, and He will bequeath the most in the future life to those who do the most faithful, willing service in the present life. The Lord chooses His own agents, and each day under different circumstances He gives them a trial in His plan of operation. In each true-hearted endeavor to work out His plan, He chooses His agents not because they are perfect but because, through a connection with Him, they may gain perfection.

God will accept only those who are determined to aim high. He places every human agent under obligation to do his best. Moral perfection is required of all. Never should we lower the standard of righteousness in order to accommodate inherited or cultivated tendencies to wrong-doing. We need to understand that imperfection of character is sin. All righteous attributes of character dwell in God as a perfect, harmonious whole, and every one who receives Christ as a personal Saviour is privileged to possess these attributes. And those who would be workers together with God must strive for perfection of every organ of the body and quality of the mind. True education is the preparation of the physical, mental, and moral powers for the performance of every duty; it is the training of body, mind, and soul for divine service. This is the education that will endure unto eternal life.

Of every Christian the Lord requires growth in efficiency and capability in every line. Christ has paid us our wages, even His own blood and suffering, to secure our willing service. He came to our world to give us an example of how we should work, and what spirit we should bring into our labor. He desires us to study how we can best advance His work and glorify His name in the world, crowning with honor, with the greatest love and devotion, the Father who "so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." John 3:16.

But Christ has given us no assurance that to attain perfection of character is an easy matter. A noble, all-round character is not inherited. It does not come to us by accident. A noble character is earned by individual effort through the merits and grace of Christ. God gives the talents, the powers of the mind; we form the character. It is formed by hard, stern battles with self. Conflict after conflict must be waged against hereditary tendencies. We shall have to criticize ourselves closely, and allow not one unfavorable trait to remain uncorrected.

Let no one say, I cannot remedy my defects of character. If you come to this decision, you will certainly fail of obtaining everlasting life. The impossibility lies in your own will. If you will not, then you can not overcome. The real difficulty arises from the corruption of an unsanctified heart, and an unwillingness to submit to the control of God.

Many whom God has qualified to do excellent work accomplish very little, because they attempt little. Thousands pass through life as if they had no definite object for which to live, no standard to reach. Such will obtain a reward proportionate to their works.

Remember that you will never reach a higher standard than you yourself set. Then set your mark high, and step by step, even though it be by painful effort, by self-denial and sacrifice, ascend the whole length of the ladder of progress. Let nothing hinder you. Fate has not woven its meshes about any human being so firmly that he need remain helpless and in uncertainty. Opposing circumstances should create a firm determination to overcome them. The breaking down of one barrier will give greater ability and courage to go forward. Press with determination in the right direction, and circumstances will be your helpers, not your hindrances.

Be ambitious, for the Master's glory, to cultivate every grace of character. In every phase of your character building you are to please God. This you may do; for Enoch pleased Him though living in a degenerate age. And there are Enochs in this our day.

Stand like Daniel, that faithful statesman, a man whom no temptation could corrupt. Do not disappoint Him who so loved you that He gave His own life to cancel your sins. He says, "Without Me ye can do nothing." John 15:5. Remember this. If you have made mistakes, you certainly gain a victory if you see these mistakes and regard them as beacons of warning. Thus you turn defeat into victory, disappointing the enemy and honoring your Redeemer.

A character formed according to the divine likeness is the only treasure that we can take from this world to the next. Those who are under the instruction of Christ in this world will take every divine attainment with them to the heavenly mansions. And in heaven we are continually to improve. How important, then, is the development of character in this life.

The heavenly intelligences will work with the human agent who seeks with determined faith that perfection of character which will reach out to perfection in action. To everyone engaged in this work Christ says, I am at your right hand to help you.

As the will of man co-operates with the will of God, it becomes omnipotent. Whatever is to be done at His command may be accomplished in His strength. All His biddings are enablings.

Ellen White (1827- 1915) was one of the founders of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. Filled with the gift of prophecy, she wrote over 100,000 pages of warning, instruction, encouragement, and hope for the church. Her writings continue to inspire the church today.

BABYLON

The Lord is Leading

A lot has happened since the release of the previous magazine. The Loud Cry Sign Initiative of the AAGE Network has expanded to include t-shirts and a billboard. The billboard is located off interstate 75 in Adel, Georgia with a reach of over a half million people per month. An AAGE member led out in this initiative and this is the purpose of the AAGE network to work together to spread the everlasting gospel. The goal of the Loud Cry Sign Initiative is to bring the message of Revelation 14:6-12 in simple signs. The main sign for this initiative asks the question "Worship God or Babylon?" It leads them to a website to learn more by having access to more Bible studies.

Abundant Living Farm is offering to the local community a community supported agriculture (CSA) program this year. The people in the community will receive fresh produce to their tables every week. We are very excited for this opportunity. We pray that this growing season will be a blessing to many people.

The AAGE Network had an online conference on March 13 entitled Pandemics... How Should We As Adventists Respond? The Lord truly blessed this meeting. Various speakers gave practical ways we can combat global crises using the medical missionary work, the gospel work, the educational work, and the agricultural work.

Also many more classes have been completed on the BCME's Everlasting Gospel and Health Evangelists Training course. This is an in-depth course that will prepare you to be an effective medical missionary evangelist in these last days. Again, this course has open enrollment and you can take it on your own pace. If you have not yet enrolled in this powerful course start today. Enroll at BCMEonline.org.

Another project that we began recently is Morning Manna. It is a daily morning Bible study program that airs on Pathway to Peace Internet Radio from Sunday to Friday every week first airing @ 6:30 am and later at 11:00 am ET. I encourage you to listen and be blessed.

As you see, a lot has been happening and a lot more that we will be announcing soon. The Lord has been blessing. I pray that you are inspired and encourage to do the work that God has called His people to do in these last days. Continue to move forward in faith!

Reform or Revolt

By Elene Rodgers

The Bible reveals in Romans 3:23, “For ALL have sinned, and come short of the glory of God.” When a person recognizes that they have broken one of God’s commandments, they must make a decision if they will reform by making a change to be obedient to all that God commands or to rebel or revolt by continuing to disobey God. According to the dictionary, reform means “to change from worse to better; to amend; to correct; to remove that which is bad or corrupt. to abandon that which is evil”. On the other hand, revolt means “to turn, to renounce allegiance and subjection to one’s prince or state; to reject the authority of a sovereign, gross departure from duty.”

To make a decision to revolt against God is not a small matter, but it is a very serious offense. In Jeremiah 6:28-30 we see its result, “They are all grievous revolters, walking with slanders: they are brass and iron; they are all corrupters. 29 The bellows are burned, the lead is consumed of the fire; the founder melteth in vain: for the wicked are not plucked away. 30 Reprobate silver shall men call them, because the LORD hath rejected them.”

Isaiah 1:1-6 gives a visual description to reveal how disgusting a revolt is, “Ah sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity, a seed of evildoers, children that are corrupters: they have forsaken the LORD, they have provoked the Holy One of Israel unto anger, they are gone away backward. 5 Why should ye be stricken any more? ye will revolt more and more: the whole head is sick, and the whole heart faint. 6 From the sole of the foot even unto the head there is no soundness in it; but wounds, and bruises, and putrifying sores: they have not been closed, neither bound up, neither mollified with ointment.” Moreover, Isaiah 59:12,13 says, “For our transgressions are multiplied before thee, and our sins testify against us: for our transgressions are with us; and as for our iniquities, we know them; 13 In transgressing and lying against the LORD, and departing away from our God, speaking oppression and revolt H5627, conceiving and uttering from the heart words of falsehood.” Revolt is apostasy, crime, rebellion. (Strong’s Hebrew Dictionary H5627).

Zedekiah revolted against God because he feared the people would mock him. In Jeremiah 38:19-23 the warning was given to him; “And Zedekiah the king said unto Jeremiah, I am afraid of the Jews that are fallen to the Chaldeans, lest they deliver me into their hand, and they mock me. 20 But Jeremiah said, They shall not deliver thee. Obey, I beseech thee, the voice of the LORD, which I speak unto thee: so it shall be well unto thee, and thy soul shall live. 21 But if thou refuse to go forth, this is the word that the LORD hath shewed me: 22 And, behold, all the women that are left in the king of Judah’s house shall be brought forth to the king of Babylon’s princes, and those women shall say, Thy friends have set thee on, and have prevailed against thee: thy feet are sunk in the mire, and they are turned away back. 23 So they shall bring out all thy wives and thy children to the Chaldeans: and thou shalt not escape out of their hand, but shalt be taken by the hand of the king of Babylon: and thou shalt cause this city to be burned with fire.”

Sadly, Zedekiah revolted and it was not well for him. (Read Jeremiah 39:1-8)

When people or nations revolt, God calls for a reformation. During the time of Israel’s revolt, Isaiah pleaded with them to reform. “Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; cease to do evil; 17 Learn to do well; seek judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow. 18 Come now, and let us reason together, saith the LORD: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool. 19 If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land: 20 But if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of the LORD hath spoken it.” (Isaiah 1:16-20).

Josiah gives an example of a True Reformation. Even though Josiah was the king, he humbled himself and led out in a Great Reformation detailed in 2 Kings 23:2-5,7,10,13,15; “And the king went up into the house of the LORD, and all the men of Judah and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem with him, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the people, both small and great: and he read in their ears all the words of the book of the covenant which was found in the house of the LORD. (3) And the king stood by a pillar, and made a covenant before the LORD, to walk after the LORD, and to keep his commandments and his testimonies and his statutes with all their heart and all their soul, to perform the words of this covenant that were written in this book. And all the people stood to the covenant. (4) And the king commanded Hilkiah the high priest, and the priests of the second order, and the keepers of the door, to bring forth out of the temple of the LORD all the vessels that were made for Baal, and for the grove, and for all the host of heaven: and he burned them without Jerusalem in the fields of Kidron, and carried the ashes of them unto Bethel. (5) And he put down the idolatrous priests, whom the kings of Judah had ordained to burn incense in the high places in the cities of Judah, and in the places round about Jerusalem; them also that burned incense unto Baal, to the sun, and to the moon, and to the planets, and to all the host of heaven. (7) And he brake down the houses of the sodomites, that were by the house of the LORD, where the women wove hangings for the grove. (10) And he defiled Topheth, which is in the valley of the children of Hinnom, that no man might make his son or his daughter to pass through the fire to Molech. (13) And the high places that were before Jerusalem, which were on the right hand of the mount of corruption, which Solomon the king of Israel had builded for Ashtoreth the abomination of the Zidonians, and for Chemosh the abomination of the Moabites, and for Milcom the abomination of the children of Ammon, did the king defile. (15) Moreover the altar that was at Bethel, and the high place which Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel to sin, had made, both that altar and the high place he brake down, and burned the high place, and stamped it small to powder, and burned the grove.”

ALL will make a decision to reform or revolt. Which side will you be on? One side does not want to be converted, they just revolt against the government of God - some even while claiming to be the people of God. The other side makes a change from bad to good, a reformation.

It was a diligent study of God’s Word that led to the Protestant Reformation. Likewise, it is a diligent study of God’s Word that will lead to a reformation in your own life. Psalms 119:11 says, “Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee.” Jesus puts it this way in John 15:3,4, “Now ye are clean through the word which I have spoken unto you. 4 Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me.”

So, let us have a true reformation by abiding in Christ and Him in us, prayerfully studying God’s Word and sharing it with others.

1 tsp. salt
1 ½ tsp. active dry yeast

Place warm water, yeast, and honey in a bowl and let it sit for about 5 minutes. Then mix into the yeast mixture flour, honey, oil, and salt. Knead it together for about 10 minutes. Then cover with a towel or plastic wrap and let it sit in a warm environment for about 30 minutes. (Note: You can make the dough in a bread machine.)

Option #2 Unleavened Pizza Dough

3 cups whole wheat flour
1 tsp. Sea Salt
3 Tbs. Olive Oil
1 ¼ cup boiling water

Mix flour and salt. Make a well. Pour hot water in the well and then add the oil. Make a dough ball. Knead it until it is a smooth ball that does not stick. Shape in ball. Then roll out flat.

Pizza

“Cheese-like” Sauce

1 cup water (add ¼ cup extra water to make the “cheese-like” sauce easier to drizzle)
1 cup cashews
3 Tbsp. sesame seeds or tahini
1 tsp. salt
2 tsp. garlic powder
2 Tbsp. fresh lemon juice
1 ¼ Tbsp. Paprika (Note: If you want half cheddar “cheese” and half white “cheese” leave out the paprika and pour half of the white cheese in one bowl and then add half of the amount of paprika.)
Blend thoroughly until creamy.

Pizza Sauce

1 (28 oz.) Can Crushed Tomatoes
2 Tbsp. olive oil
1 ½ tsp. salt or to taste
½ tsp. onion powder
1 ½ tsp. garlic powder
1 Tbsp. raw honey
¼ tsp. oregano

Turn skillet on med-high. Pour crushed tomatoes into skillet then add all the remaining seasonings and stir. Cook on low heat about 5 minutes to combine all ingredients.

Assemble Pizza

Put red sauce on the dough. Top with favorite toppings; I like onions, bell peppers, olives, pineapple. Also, add the “cheese” sauce.

Bake the Pizza

Bake in the oven at 350 degree for about 20 minutes.

Healthful Living

Is Your Preventive Care Really Causative?

By Carlene Rodgers

“DESPITE great strides in prevention and treatment, cancer rates remain stubbornly high and may soon surpass heart disease as the leading cause of death in the United States. Increasingly, we and many other experts believe that an important culprit may be our own medical practices: We are silently irradiating ourselves to death.”¹

There are health conscience people who choose to get a full body CT scan to give themselves peace of mind that there is no disease or discover the disease early. However the FDA has said something which may surprise many about CT scans. The FDA states, “Taking preventive action, finding unsuspected disease, uncovering problems while they are treatable, these all sound great, almost too good to be true! In fact, at this time the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) knows of no scientific evidence demonstrating that whole-body scanning of individuals without symptoms provides more benefit than harm to people being screened.” The FDA further states, “Many people don’t realize that getting a whole body CT screening exam won’t necessarily give them the ‘peace of mind’ they are hoping for, or the information that would allow them to prevent a health problem. An abnormal finding, for example, may not be a serious one, and a normal finding may be inaccurate. CT scans, like other medical procedures, will miss some conditions, and ‘false’ leads can prompt further, unnecessary testing.”²

Many people get CT scans not knowing that they are actually harming themselves. “The radiation doses of CT scans (a series of X-ray images from multiple angles) are 100 to 1,000 times higher than conventional X-rays.”³ That is a lot. CT scans use ionizing gamma radiation which is very damaging to the DNA. These X-rays are like little “grenades” that can cause changes in the DNA leading to cancer. “Ionizing radiation can damage the genetic material of every internal organ or cell lying within the path of an x-ray beam.”⁴ Radiation also leads to cardiovascular disease by damaging the DNA in your arteries causing the cells lining your arteries to multiply abnormally which effectively decreases vessel elasticity increasing your risk for a heart attack. “In the British study, children exposed to multiple CT scans were found to be three times more likely to develop leukemia and brain cancer. In a 2011 report sponsored by Susan G. Komen, the Institute of Medicine concluded that radiation from medical imaging, and hormone therapy, the use of which has substantially declined in the last decade, were the leading environmental causes of breast cancer, and advised that women reduce their exposure to unnecessary CT scans.”⁵

There is confusion as to the actual amount of radiation given. “The dose at one hospital can be as much as 50 times stronger than at another. A recent study at one New York hospital found that nearly a third of its patients undergoing multiple cardiac imaging tests were getting a cumulative effective dose of more than 100 millisieverts of radiation — equivalent to 5,000 chest X-rays...A 2009 study she [Smith-Bindman, director of UCSF’s Radiology Outcomes Research Lab] led found that the actual radiation doses from CT scans varied as much as 13-fold for the same test performed at the same hospital, and these doses were much higher than those required to make a diagnosis...Another said that in her hospital, ‘no one cares’ about radiation doses.”⁶ “However, according to some estimates, the radiation exposure a patient receives from a full-body CT scan is often 500 times that of a conventional X-ray and about the same as that received by people living 2.4 kilometres away from the centres of the World War II atomic blasts in Japan.”⁷

Practitioners are not regulated as to their use of CT scans. “The primary U.S. limit for occupational exposure to ionizing radiation is 5,000 mrem (50 mSv)/year. Exposure to minors and to the general public is limited to 100 mrem (1 mSv)/year. Medical exposure levels, however, are based on medical necessity as determined by the physician and patient.”⁸ “The FDA, however, does not regulate practitioners and they may choose to use a device for any use they deem appropriate.”⁹

“CTs, once rare, are now routine. One in 10 Americans undergo a CT scan every year, and many of them get more than one. This growth is a result of multiple factors, including a desire for early diagnoses, higher quality imaging technology, direct-to-consumer advertising and the financial interests of doctors and imaging centers. CT scanners cost millions of dollars; having made that investment, purchasers are strongly incentivized to use them.”¹⁰

Urgent Need Of Medical Missionary Institutions

By Cary Rodgers

God gives specific instruction to the remnant church on how to establish medical missionary institutions. When people think of the word “institutions” they think of large organizations with large expensive buildings, but an institution is an organization of two or more.

We are instructed to establish many small medical missionary city centers of healing and evangelism in the cities. “We must do more than we have done to reach the people of our cities. We are not to erect large buildings in the cities, but over and over again the light has been given me that we should establish in all our cities small plants which shall be centers of influence.” - Counsels On Health p. 481

1) City treatment centers in churches & rented buildings: “In every city where we have a church, there is need of a place where treatment can be given. Among the homes of our church members there are few that afford room and facilities for the proper care of the sick. A place should be provided where treatment may be given for common ailments. The building might be inelegant and even rude, but it should be furnished with facilities for giving simple treatments. These, skillfully employed, would prove a blessing, not only to our own people, but to their neighbors, and might be the means of calling the attention of many to health principles. - Ibid. p. 468

For example: Hydrotherapy & Natural Therapeutic centers can be established in the city using variety of hydro or water therapies and natural remedy treatments for the sick from various diseases and illnesses.

2) Room and places in the city to do health and natural remedy presentations to the community: “Arrangements should be made to hold meetings in connection with our restaurants. Whenever possible, let a room be provided where the patrons can be invited to lectures on the science of health and Christian temperance, where they can receive instruction on the preparation of wholesome food and on other important subjects. In these meetings there should be prayer and singing and talks, not only on health and temperance topics, but also on other appropriate Bible subjects. As the people are taught how to preserve physical health, many opportunities will be found to sow the seeds of the gospel of the kingdom.” - Ibid p. 481

3) Plant-based & therapeutic restaurants: “I have been instructed that one of the principal reasons why hygienic restaurants and treatment rooms should be established in the centers of large cities is that by this means the attention of leading men will be called to the third angel’s message. Noticing that these restaurants are conducted in a way altogether different from the way in which ordinary restaurants are conducted, men of intelligence will then begin to inquire into the reasons for the difference in business methods, and will investigate the principles that lead us to serve superior food. Thus they will be led to a knowledge of the message for this time.” - Ibid p. 491. These restaurants should have rooms to conduct presentations on health and cooking classes.

4) Establish cooking schools in the cities: “In connection with our city missions there should be suitable rooms where those in whom an interest has been awakened can be gathered for instruction . . . Cooking schools should be held. The people are to be taught how to prepare wholesome food. They are to be shown the need of discarding unhealthful foods. But we should never advocate a starvation diet” – Ibid p. 443

5) Establish Health Food Stores: “Let centers of influence be made in many of the Southern cities by the opening of food stores and vegetarian restaurants. Let there also be facilities for the manufacture of simple, inexpensive health foods up the food work; for, in order to make it a success, the greatest wisdom and economy must be exercised.” - Ibid p. 494

All of the institutions can work together in a unified fashion to support and make client referrals for each other. Remember we are all on the same team and are not to compete with each other.

We are instructed to establish medical missionary outposts in the country outside of the cities.

1) Country Sanitariums (Natural

Therapeutic Health Centers) that do not use prescription drugs: “The proclamation of the truth in all parts of the world calls for small sanitariums in many places, not in the heart of cities, but in places where city influences will be as little felt as possible.” - Medical Ministry, p. 159

“As to drugs being used in our institutions, it is contrary to the light which the Lord has been pleased to give. The drugging business has done more harm to our world and killed more than it has helped or cured. The light was first given to me why institutions should be established, that is, sanitariums were to reform the medical practice of physicians.” - Ibid p. 27

“They (sanitariums) should be situated in the country, in the midst of surroundings as attractive as possible.... The sick should be cared for away from the bustle of the cities.” - Counsels On Health, p. 265

Sanitariums should not be too close together: “It is not His plan for an institution to be in too close proximity to another doing the same kind of work.” - Medical Ministry, p. 15

2) Medical Missionary training schools in the country should be in connection with the sanitariums: “An educational work should be carried on in connection with all our sanitariums. There is a close relation between the work of our schools and our sanitariums; and, wherever it is practical, there are decided advantages in having a school in close connection with a sanitarium. There would be in such an arrangement decided advantages to both lines of work.” - Counsels On Health, p. 242

Training should not be long years of training. “Some need not spend so long a time in these schools as do others. It is not in harmony with God’s purpose that all should plan to spend exactly the same length of time, whether three, four, or five years, in preparation, before beginning to engage in active field work. Some, after studying for a time, can develop more rapidly by working along practical lines in different places, under the supervision of experienced leaders, than they could by remaining in an institution. As they advance in knowledge and ability, some of these will find it much to their advantage to return to one of our sanitarium training schools for more instruction. Thus they will become efficient medical missionaries, prepared for trying emergencies.” - Counsels to Parents, Teachers and Students, p. 469

Also training schools should have a component in which the students learn about farming and help with the needs of the farm onsite.

3) Health food factories should be created in connection with the school and sanitariums: “The health-food business should be established here. It should be one of the industries connected with the school. God has instructed me that parents can find work in this industry and send their children to school. But everything that is done should be done with the greatest simplicity. There is to be no extravagance in anything. Solid work is to be done . . . Just as soon as the helpers in this line of work are controlled by the Holy Spirit, the Lord will give them tact and intelligence in the manufacturing of foods, just as He gave the workers on the tabernacle understanding and ability.” - Counsels on Health, p. 495

4) Plant-based cooking schools should also be in connection with student training and the sanitarium: “Connected with our sanitariums and schools there should be cooking schools, where instruction is given on the proper preparation of food. In all our schools there should be those who are fitted to educate the students, both men and women, in the art of cooking. . . Women especially should learn how to cook.” - Medical Ministry, p. 270

to feed the country outpost sanitariums. “I have been given light that in many cities it is advisable for a restaurant to be connected with treatment rooms . . . These establishments will serve as feeders to the sanitariums located in the country.” - Counsels On Health, p. 488

Industries should be established with school and other medical missionary workers. “Various industries should be carried on in our schools. The industrial instruction given should include the keeping of accounts, carpentry, and all that is comprehended in farming. Preparation should be made for the teaching of blacksmithing, painting, shoemaking, and for cooking, baking, washing, mending, typewriting, and printing. Every power at our command is to be brought into this training work, that students may go forth well equipped for the duties of practical life. Students should be given a practical education in agriculture. This will be of inestimable value to many in their future work. The training to be obtained in felling trees and in tilling the soil, as well as in literary lines, is the education that our youth should seek to obtain. Agriculture will open resources for self-support.” - Counsels to Teachers, Parents, and Students p. 310

In conclusion, there is a great and urgent need now for the establishment of the medical missionary institutions. It starts with you. These institution can start small and with only two people. Let’s go forward together in faith! Go to BCMEOnline.org to take our online medical missionary training, Everlasting Gospel & Health Evangelist course. This is also the foundational path for those whose are interested in advance medical missionary nurses and physicians trainings in the near future.

Reviewing The Past

Oakwood College

By Elijah M. Rodgers

After slavery was abolished in 1865, the oppression continued. Every effort was made to make the life of the then freed slaves hard. Even though slavery was ended, the spirit was still alive. Many laws were put in place in the south to separate them from society.

They could not go to the regular schools or colleges to obtain an education. As a result, the people were very poor.

Many people and churches even in the north did not want to go and help them get an education or give them the gospel because of the opposition they would receive from the former masters.

But Ellen White saw the need and called upon the Seventh-day Adventist church to do something. She said, "It is time that every city in the South that can be entered should be worked. The people, both white and black, are to hear the testing message for this time." - A Place Called Oakwood 80.1

She wanted many schools, hospitals, and other industries to be established to help the freed slaves out of their poverty.

Many began to respond to these calls and many missions were set up. Her son, Edson White had a boat which they called the Morning Star, which traveled down a river to various parts of the south to minister to, and educate the black people. This boat was a school and also a chapel. It had a publishing press, among many other things.

Edson White co-founded the Southern Missionary Society and through their work 50 schools were started, a hospital, and a publishing house.

But Ellen White saw a need for a college which would effectively train black students to become pastors, nurses, and also teach them many industries.

Ellen White said, "I was also instructed that in the South a first class sanitarium should be erected where the colored people can be treated by hygienic methods, and where many youth can be trained to be skillful nurses and teachers of the gospel of Christ. Our people in the South must be quick in laying hold of advantages that are needed there. The true missionary spirit must be cherished in the hearts of all our workers. We have a school at Huntsville. If we are wise, we will make very decided efforts that the work of this school may be strengthened, and conducted in no inferior way." - A Place Called Oakwood 83.2

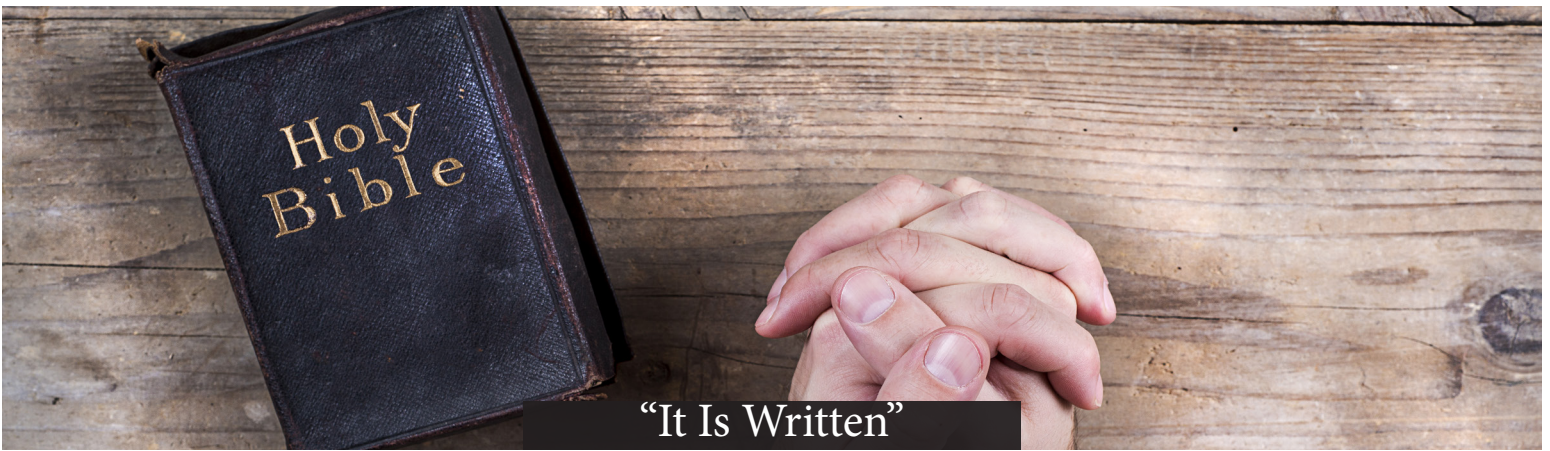

They looked for an area to accomplish this and they found a place known as Huntsville, Alabama. They saw this place as a very favorable location for this new school.

In the area was a large farm with 360 acres that was for sale. A meeting was held, and the General Conference decided to buy the property for $6,700. The property had many tall oak trees which gave the school the name "Oakwood."

In 1896, the school opened as Oakwood Industrial School

The beginning was not so easy, but they pressed on and the school became a powerful center for the training of many missionaries. The school had many industries that included farming, blacksmithing, wagon building, rugmaking, broommaking, carpentry, a laundry service, a store and much more. Also a sanitarium was established in 1909.

These industries had a big impact on the community. Every one in the area knew that the store was not opened on the sabbath. In all their labors they sought to display the character of Christ. As a result of these industries many became acquainted with the school, and many joined the church as a result. God greatly blessed the efforts of the school in Huntsville.

“It Is Written”

Is Faith Important?

By Nehemiah Rodgers

Faith is important. Luke 7:50 says, “And he said to the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace.” In what we do, we must have faith. What does faith mean? Faith means complete trust or confidence in someone or something. Hebrews 11:1 says, “Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.” 2 Corinthians 5:7 says, “For we walk by faith, not by sight.”

We must have complete faith in God because He is our maker. Hebrews 11:6 says, “But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.” NO FAITH, NO POWER!!!

When you ask for forgiveness you must have faith. Mark 2:5 says, “When Jesus saw their faith, he said unto the sick of the palsy, Son, thy sins be forgiven thee.”

Also, you must have faith to be healed. Matthew 15:28 says, “Then Jesus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very hour.”

We must have faith in God. Without faith, we can do nothing. Some people do not understand the importance of faith but Stephen did, “And Stephen, full of faith and power, did great wonders and miracles among the people.” (Act 6:8)

Jesus had faith and we must have the faith of Jesus. Revelation 14:12 says, “Here is the patience of the saints: here are they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.”

Finally, Luke 22:32 says, “But I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not: and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren.” Do not let your faith fail. Faith is one of the most important things. Encourage yourself in the faith today!!! “Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong.” (1 Corinthians 16:13)

Ministry at the market is continuing. One day when we were beginning to pack up to leave the market, someone walked by our table and we handed him a Bible study brochure and he began to talk to us. He stated that he wanted to be taught from the word of God. He said that a church he attended was mostly based on emotionalism and the pastor would preach for a short period of time. He said that his soul was longing for something deeper. He came to church in pain after experiencing death in his family and what he wanted was the word of God, which sadly he did not get. At the end of the conversation we ended up giving him one of each of our Bible study brochures and he said that he was going to read them! Then we continued to pack up and left the market grateful that God used us to share the Bible brochures with the man who was hungering for the Word.

The Adventist Association for Global Evangelism (AAGE) is pushing forward with the Loud Cry initiative. We have t-shirts and signs intended to encourage people to worship and obey God. Most recently we received our t-shirts. People in different states are “walking billboards” wearing the same message. Also, the yard signs with the words worship God or Babylon are continuing to go out. Interestingly, the day following putting these signs in North Carolina, we saw on the AAGE network a post from another AAGE members that they were putting up signs in Virginia. We replied to her that we were just putting signs out the previous day and were going to do the same that day too, which we did. Signs were being put out in North Carolina and South Carolina and Virginia at the same time. It was amazing to see how God was leading as our General because that was not planned. In the beginning of last year we started the Blueprint Center of Medical Evangelist (BCME) which offers the Everlasting Gospel and Health online training course. Now we have a whole lot of lessons up and we are nearing the completion of putting up all of

What happens After Death?

Funerals can be very confusing because there are different doctrines taught on what happens to a dead person. The state of the dead is one of the most misunderstood subjects in our world today. For many people death invokes fear, misery, mystery, and hopelessness. For others, they believe their dead loved ones are not really dead but are living immortal lives in another place as disembodied "spirits". What does the Bible teach about death? Are the dead really dead? Does a person go directly to Heaven or Hell after death? What happens when a person dies?

Satan is trying to confuse many people on the subject of death in order to deceive them. However, if you prayerfully study what the Bible says about death, you will not be deceived. By the end of this short study, you will have a clear Biblical understanding on the subject of death and be comforted with the Truth.

I Will Come Again

The first coming of Jesus Christ as our Savior was prophesied in the Bible from the place of His birth to the time of His anointing and ministry on earth. Over 125 prophecies in the Old Testament were accurately fulfilled in the New Testament.

What was the purpose of the first coming of Christ? Zechariah 9:9 "Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion; shout, O daughter of Jerusalem; behold, thy King cometh unto thee: he is just, and having salvation; lowly, and riding upon an ass, and upon a colt the foal of an ass."

Matthew 1:21-23 "And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name JESUS; for he shall save his people from their sins. Now all this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying, Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us. Jesus came to save us from our sins and give us the gift of salvation. Sin brought pain, suffering, and death upon the world. For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God." Romans 3:23. (Read Romans 5:12) According to 1 John 3:4, "Whosoever committeth sin transgresseth also the law; for sin is the transgression of the law." (God's Law is found in Exodus 20:3-17) Because we sinned we were doomed to eternal death. "For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is

God's Law of Love

Laws are the structure of all governments, and without them there would be total chaos. A government would not be able to stand without just laws. God has a government. "But the LORD is the true God; he is the living God, and an everlasting king. . ." Jeremiah 10:10. He rules over all. In His government He has a law. His law is known as the Ten Commandments. (Read Deuteronomy 10:4) In this law He shows us how to obey and love God, and love others. In this short study you will learn about the law of God. What is the law of God? What are the main purposes of the law? Are we to keep God's law? Let's see what the Bible says.

First, where are the Ten Commandments found in the Bible? They are found in Exodus 20:3-17. The first four show us how to love God: (1) "Thou shalt have no other gods before me." (2) "Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth; Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the LORD thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me. And showing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments." (3) "Thou shalt not take the name of the LORD thy God in vain;

The Sabbath of the Lord

The Bible teaches that we are to keep God's moral law, the Ten Commandments. Jesus Himself says in Matthew 5:17, "Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets; I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil." In addition, Romans 2:31 says, "Do we then make void the law through faith? God forbid; yea, we establish the law." Love is the foundation of God's law. Romans 13:10 says, "For this, Thou shalt not commit adultery; Thou shalt not kill; Thou shalt not steal; Thou shalt not bear false witness; Thou shalt not covet; and if there be any other commandment, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. Love worketh no ill to his neighbour: therefore love is the fulfilling of the law."

Did you know that within the Law of Love God has given you a special day off from work each week to rest, rejuvenate, and commemorate God as your Creator and Savior?

Yes, it is true. It is the fourth commandment found in Exodus 20:8-11.
